International Seminar on Problems of Economic Development and Structural Change
Ian G. Stewart
University of Edinburgh

Changes in the structure of the economy have been driven by a range of